trial, and convinces the most sceptical. Every family should keep it on hand as a protection against the early and unperceived attacks of Pulmonary Affections, which are easily met at first, but which become incura-ble, and too often fatal, if neglected. Tender itings need this defence; and it is unwise to be without it. As a safeguard to children, amid the distressing diseases which beset the Throat and Chest of childhood, CHERRY PECTORAL IS invaluable; for, by its timely use, multitudes are rescued from premature graves, and saved to the love and affection centred on them. It acts speedily and surely against ordinary colds, securing sound and estoring sleep. No one will suffer chitis, when they know how easily they can or tail is spared in making every buttle in the utmost possible perfection. It may be confi-
